

I'll Come Back To You

Lobo

A leaf falls in a stream
And the timeless trip begins
When it gets to the sea
Then it's home again

When life gets to me
And I need some room to breathe
Like that gently floating leaf
Is how I need to be

If I close my eyes
I can drift away
And be back on that stream
So very far away

No matter where I go
On these dreams I'm going through
Like a leaf that finds the sea
I'll come back to you
