

Only Losers

Lou Barlow

This is a song for losers
Though I'm not a loser myself
A loser has nothing to sell
I could easily sell my self
I could easily sell my soul
It's easy 'cause I don't believe
People who believe are losers
I understand there's nothing to lose
A winner doesn't care if it loses
A loser always tries to win
Loser wasted life, trying to prove it's right
A winner wouldn't even begin to wonder why
It's not worth the pain to change
If you learn to play the game
If you've learned to feed from it
Growing stronger with the need
After all it's all you need
So we're holdin' on to it
Cuz only losers quit
It's the well from which you're born
It's the wealth that you deserve
It's the evil righteous glow
It's the jealous losers feel
So we're holdin' on to it
Cuz only losers quit
