

Touch Your Dreams

Lucky Dube

Have you ever seen a dream walking?
Have you ever heard a dream talking?
You are the master of your dreams
If you pull the right strings
It could be talking to you
If you pull the right strings
It could be walking to you.

You are the one to make it happen
You're the only one that knows what is
You are holding the key to your dreams
Don't hesitate grab the chance
Before it's too late.

Reach out and touch your dreams.

Don't let them tell you it is impossible
That is what they told all heroes before
In a hero's mind the word does not exist
When you're 80 years old
Thinking about your past
Regretting every minute of your life
That you've lost
You will wonder where the time went
If you do the right thing
It could be talking to you
Don't hesitate, grab the chance
Before it's too late.

Reach out and touch your drea.
