

The Way You Talk To Me

Luka Bloom

Your complete silence speaks
Stronger than words
I fumble trying to impress
I mumble trying to express
I tumble talk is meaningless

Just one gesture of your hand
You summon all your greatness to command
And everything I understand
The way you talk to me

Scream away, scream away
To your heart's content
I promise you won't upset a soul
Fool I am I envy you
Scream away you won't spoil the view
Your little daggers always make it through
The way you talk to me

Your smiling at things
They make no sense to me
Your visions and dreams
They might set me free

Just one gesture of your hand
You summon all your greatness to command
And everything I understand
The way you talk to me
The way you talk
The way you talk to me ...
