Grey winter skies cannot dim your light autumn winds cannot hold you now I hear you whisper thru the frozen sea I hear you calling Gold desert sands shift across the sun summer snow falls on everyone But still you whisper thru the frozen sea I hear you crying - to me Melting snow a midnight sun not how it was when the world was young melting snow a midnight sun not how it was when the world begun I hear you whisper thru the frozen sea I hear you crying Melting snow a midnight sun not how it was when the world was young melting snow a midnight sun not how it was when it all begun Melting snow a midnight sun not how it was when the world was young melting snow a midnight sun not how it was when it all begun Music: M. Reilly, St. MacKillop Words: M. Reilly, St. MacKillop