

Song About Home

Mandy Moore

Could I close the door behind me
And lock myself outside alone?
Could somebody please remind me
Why this bird still hasn't still flown
To a treetop on the mountainside
Or joined an arrow in the sky
I know, I know someday I will be home

To many dreams of my house burning
Where I'm the one who struck the match
Try to find the meaning
A life on fire, a bird a will hatch
To a treetop on the mountainside
Or join an arrow in the sky
I know, I know someday I will be home

Oh I am not afraid of alone
No I am not afraid of my own missteps
There's no regrets
At least not yet
Not yet

Took a bus across the country
My bags were full, they weighed me down
And on that trail to California
Shed my skin in every town
To a treetop on the mountainside
And joined an arrow in the sky
I know, I know finally found a home
I know, I know finally found a home
For now
A home
For now
