

Where You Are

Marc Broussard

Your skin is like the moonlight
Dancing in the midnight
Your touch is sweet as candy
Your kisses they taste so fine, so fine
and I want to love you better
You don't have to be alone
I want to let you know forever's waiting right here at home

And I want to be where you are Come on take all I've got
I want you to know just how I feel
I've loved you from the start
I want to be where you are

Girl you know how to move me
Making me believe, believe
You blind a man with beauty
Love will make him see
I can see
And I want to love you better
And nowhere is too far
I want to let you know forever is right here in my heart

I've stood alone in New York City
I've watched the sunset in L.A.
I ride for miles and miles and end up getting nowhere
But I've never felt this way
Never felt this way
Never felt this way

And I want to be where you are come on take all I've got
I want you to know just how I feel
I've loved you from the start

I've stood alone in New York City
I've watched the sunset in L.A.
I ride for miles and miles and end up getting nowhere
But I've never felt this way
