

Was It a Dream

Marissa Nadler

I keep thinking it was a dream that I hit you when you were down

I keep changing everything from the river to the town

Was it a dream or something sinister?

Was it a dream or something sinister?

I got a better half, it's sad I know I know

I got a better half, it's sad I know I know

I keep thinking it was a dream that you never come around

All the time we spent in a box in my hotel

Was it a dream or something sinister?

Was it a dream or something sinister?

I got a better half, it's sad I know I know

I got a better half, it's sad I know I know

It's true that I lost a year stumbling from room to room

Hoping I'd wake up somehow next to you

It's true that I lost a year stumbling from room to room

Hoping I'd wake up somehow next to you

Was it a mirror looking through?

It's the same world but everything is new

It's the same world but everything is new

It's the same world but everything is new
