Somebody Crying

Marshall Crenshaw

Right, no warning. None at all Just the word, "goodbye," written backwards On the wall Now my anger is in overdrive So down the road I'm bound 'til I track you down Dead or alive I heard somebody crying and the sky turned black and grey Say, Miss Lady, where are you today? Call me Daddy Rolling Stone As I make my way down the back roads all alone Why did you do it? I don't care! I won't end this ride 'till you're by my side, This I swear I heard somebody crying and the sun's dropping out of sight Say, Miss Lady, where are you tonight?
