

Give In, You Just Can't Win

Marvin Gaye

You can try to win my love
But it's just too late
Try and try again
But to lose me is your fate

You can walk the streets
Till your feet refuse
But you won't find me
You will only find the blues
Oh nothin' but the blues

You can't win, so give in
You just can't win, so give in
You just can't win
No, you just can't win

Oh baby, baby, honey
You did me wrong
When my love was true
You just led me on
Now I've gone away from you, darlin'

If you call me on the phone
To remove the pain
There'll be a busy signal
Or else an endless ring
Oh nothin' but a ring

You can't win, so give in
You just can't win, so give in
You just can't win, oh
Oh baby, give in

Tell me, what do you get
When you call me, honey?
Just an endless ring
Oh nothin' but a ring

You can't win, so give in
You just can't win, so give in
You just can't win
No, you just can't win

Oh baby, give in
You know you just can't win
Don't want your love no more, darlin'
This stuff has got to stop

Ah, I can't stand it
Don't need the love you got
And I don't want your love no more
I've tried it before

I don't want you no more, baby
I don't need you no more
I never
