Marvin Gaye

Oh Hey, hey, hey There is a joy in a sweet word that's been spoken And the joy in a dream that's come true There's a joy that I get when I'm watching you baby, hey And the joy that I get watching the skies of blue And then there's a joy, Oh my darling, of a crying baby And the joy of a child that's born to you Then there's a joy of a beautiful lady and the joy of the morni ng dew It's something like the joy of loving you baby Joy of dancin' too It's something like the joy of lovin' you baby, yeah Joy of being with you Oh my darling, I'll overcome the darkest nights Just to see your love's allright I've got a love to give You know I love to live There's something 'bout the joy of lovin' you baby [Repeat] Joy, Joy...
