You Can Run, But We'll Find You

Matchbook Romance

Have you, have you been keeping secrets from me?
Hoped I wouldn't find out
And you'd just go free
There's a whole world outside your window pane
And I've got scars to prove it But you should have known,
you should have known,
you should have known,
you should have known

Run, you can run, you can run We'll find you

Was is it everything you hoped it would be What kept your world spinning Left you dizzy
Your apologies will never sooth the sting just keep scratching our eyes out
You should have known,
you should have known,
you should have known

Run, you can run, you can run We'll find you Run, you can run, you can run We'll find you
We'll find you