

I Wonder What You're Like

Maureen McGovern

And when I think of how
We might turn out to be,
Then something melts inside of me

I wonder, I wonder,
I wonder what you're like

Well, I wonder what you're like
In the morning
When sunshine's making patterns on the wall
Do you like to laugh in bed?
Do you sleep real late instead?
Do you sometimes say, "Hey, baby,
Let's not get up at all!"

Well, I wonder what you're like
In the evening
When the moon is risin' pale and paper thin
As the day fades into night
Do you dine by candlelight?
Do you sometimes say, "Hey, baby,
Tonight let's just stay in!"

I wonder, I wonder
And when I think of how
We might turn out to be,
Then something melts inside of me
Oooh, oooh
Wonderin's all I do
Wonder if you wonder too

And I wonder what you're like
When it's midnight
Do you lie awake and feel the time go by?
When your thoughts hang in the air,
Do you need somebody there?
And oh, could that somebody
Be you and I?
Oh, could that somebody
Be you and I?

I wonder, I wonder,
I wonder what you're like
