Forever the Unknown

So low to fall Deny, your time has come and gone You live in defeat in the shadows Too scared to face the light The darkness inside The hiding from the lies

Hide yourself away Hide yourself in shame Hide yourself away

In your dreams, your screams With the winds they are carried to me The king of nothing Forever to be the unknown

So high to fly, now fall You never want to see That even the sky has a limit And now that you're betrayed The darkness inside No more hiding from the lies

Try to hide the shame Try to hide the pain Try to hide the shame

As your bloodline falls As your failure calls Who will you betray? When it's judgment day No retaliation Only termination You'll never see another day As you decay In your grave All of your legions you've betrayed Never forgive When redemption calls You'll never see no peace at all
