Where do I begin with what to say I've played this conversation in my head so many times I'm certainly not claiming to know everything But what I do will save your life.

I know, I know that God is able
I know, I know that He still reigns
I know, I know that love has found a way.

No matter what it is you're going through Even if you think you're far beyond where hope can see I know there is a Hand that's reaching out for you Because He did the same for me

It wasn't that long ago when my own world fell apart (it fell a part).

And everything here inside of me said to let go (you must let go).

I found my self crying out to the One who knows my heart (He knows your heart).

And holding tight to the few things that i know (few things that  $\ensuremath{\text{\textbf{I}}}$ know).

I know, I know, I know that love has found a way.

He has made a way!
