

This Time I Really Do

Merle Haggard

I can't believe I ever let you go
There's so much about love that I don't know
I can't believe I didn't recognize
Real love when it looked me in the eyes

There's an empty pillow on my bed
And you've always got a place to lay your head
This old room sure is a gloomy place
Cept the wall that holds the picture of your angel face

I can't believe I ever let you go
I love you, I love you
This time I really do

I can't believe I ever let you go
I love you, I love you
This time I really do
This time I really do
