

Allergic

Miss Kittin

Batteries exhausted but emotionally charged
The whole world can hear me as I think too loud
Unlucky in gambling unlucky in love
Time to remote my velvet glove

Allergic, allergic

I meditate in public day & night
As my positive thinking is on strike
Ego scratched under the sole of my sneaker
Feel like falling asleep with my head in the speaker

This is a free train station philosophy
Pain and compassion are on sale lately
It's OK to say it's all wrong
I got my 1st class one way ticket to the dawn

I am allergic to myself
