

Daylight Breaks

Mobile

The daylight breaks, the daylight breaks
I'm lying wide awake
The daylight breaks, the daylight breaks
How long, how long did it take

Nothing really matters now
'Cause I gave away everything I own

The promise made, the promise made
I never wished to say
The parts we play, the parts we play
They don't make a difference anymore

I had a sudden change of heart
And I, I've no one else to call

Hold on wait for me now
it's just a matter of time
I made up my mind
Hold on wait for me now
it's just a matter of time
Give me more time

I kneel and pray, I kneel and pray
To lose myself away.
The better days, the better days they're all gone, all gone up in flames

Nothing really matters now
'Cause I, I've nowhere else to run

Hold on wait for me now
it's just a matter of time
I made up my mind
Hold on wait for me now
it's just a matter of time
Give me more time

Oh
Get up, get up, get up
Get up, get up, get up

Get up, get up, get up
it's time to get going
Get up, get up, get up
Get up, get up, get up
Get up, get up, get up
Get up, get up, get up
it's time to move on I'm movin' on, yeah
