Shine

Monaco

Everyday, I keep on lying to you I just don't know what to do, but I do So leave me alone, I just wanna stay here at home So far away from whatever some might say or some might do

Just as I thought, I've found someone that needs me Someone that needs me so much And just as before, it's that someone who needs me Someone I needed so much

But it's you, spinning me out of control Hurting me deep in my soul, so I'm told I just wanna stop, 'cos nothing's as bad as it seems And I can't be bothered so stay awhile and tell me what it all means

Just as I thought, I've found someone that needs me Someone that needs me so much And just as before, it's that someone who needs me Someone I needed so much

Now, I'll tell you the truth 'bout what I should do Why I can't stand you no more There's a time and a place, my life's such a waste And everything had to go wrong, it's just what I needed

Just as I thought, I've found someone that needs me Someone that needs me so much And just as before, it's that someone who needs me Someone I needed so much