

Half Litre Bottle

Morning Parade

It was one of those days as I recall,
I found you sleeping on the kitchen floor,
A half litre bottle by the sink
I'd known you'd always liked a drink
But all I know is what I saw
I saw you sleeping on the kitchen floor
A half litre bottle by the sink

Oh brother why?
Oh brother why do you, do you lie?
Brother why?
Oh brother why?

Was one of those days where I could see,
My everything, my every hope and dream,
Half smoked cigarette butts lined the streets
And all I know is all I've seen,
The start of you was the end of me
And cigarette stains on my teeth.

Oh brother why?
Oh brother why do you, do you lie?
Brother why?
Oh brother why do you keep it all inside?
Do you keep it all inside?
Do you keep it all inside?

Half litre bottle, I cling to your side,
And all I know becomes undone,
Where were the angels that night?
Where were the angels that night?
Where were the angels that night?
Where were the angels that night?
Where were the angels that night?
