

Escape

Muse

You would say anything
You would try anything
To escape your meaningless
Your insignificance
You're uncontrollable
We are unloveable

And I don't want you to think that I care
I never would
I never could

Why can't you just love her?
Why be such a monster?
You're burning from a distance
Your brain needs some assistance

But I'll still take all the blame
Cause you and me are both one and the same
And it's driving me mad
And it's driving me mad
I'll take back all the things that I said
I admit I was always talking to the living dead

And I don't want you to think that I care
I never would
I never could

You would say anything
You would try anything
To escape your meaningless
Your insignificance