Goodnite, Dr. Death

My Chemical Romance

Alright, Children The lights are out and the party's over It's time for me: Doctor D To start running and say goodbye for a little while And I know you're gonna miss me So I'll leave you with this You know that big ball of radiation we call the sun? Well it'll burst you into flames If you stay in one place too long That is if the static don't get you first So remember even if you're dusted You may be gone But out here in the desert Your shadow lives on without you This is Dr. Death Defying Signing off
