You never know when the garbage man is gonna be the President of the United States
So one thing I notice, livin' my life man, doin' what I do...

The world is getting' smaller, day by day
You seein' people overseas you see around your way
The world is getting' smaller, your ex girl call her, things change around h

The world is getting' smaller, seems so big, got no time for doin' a bid
The world is getting' smaller, the life gets smaller, try and get big home t

See, you ain't it funny how people is funny style
Dude sellin' bricks now, borrowin' money now
Dude did a bid, came home he not hard

I was stressed when I heard it, my feelings got hurt
Lookin' back now, yo, I probably deserved it

Ayo the world so big but it's getting so small
That's why you got kush, weed, and alcohol
I was tourin' overseas doin' much as I can See my man Sherman from left rack in Japan
See I love to get the paper, it's just my nature
It's see-ill Phil up in Timberly, Jamaica
Let me tall ya'll something that you probably don't know
There's a dude from left rack everywhere you go
See, moved to Miami to avoid my tax debt
IRS came and deployed my mattress
Fucked up my mind, yo dude no ???
Now me and Uncle Sam so I gotta ???

Yo, my first time in Miami, yeah your friend got the board
Now ten years later this is where I record, yeah
I send them love and they send it right back to me
Now crazy hood laugh is better than hit factory
I reminisce, when I first came home before I saw Trazz and bumped into Bone
There was a dude named Amos I remember what he say
Only dude who had a studio around my way
When I asked him for a session and he said no way
I, hated him then, I forgive him today because...

See me, I know that the world got smaller and smaller and smaller day by day minute by minute
And I remember them ugly girls with buck teeth
Then they grow up to be dimes wit 20s

That's why I'm nice to the janitor, I'm cool wit the pool boy, all the inter

All the young dudes out there goin' hand-in-hand, they might turn out to be the biggest drug King Pin in the world you feel me

e the biggest DJ in the world
That's why I give drops to everybody, 'cause I know the world
