Yes, you keep asking for it

And there comes a time when you find yourself falling back on your dreams

And in your dreams, there's always a girl

A very special girl

And if by some miracle she should become a reality

You know that [?] no going back

I reach for you and I touch the sky I kiss your lips and a star goes by And when I hold you it's all clear I am in heaven when you are near

You are an angel, what can I do?
I'll never leave you my whole life through
I'm in a world of no return
And there's no return from you

I'm in a world of no return
And there's no return from you
