

I Love Him So Much

Natalie Cole

Today we broke up, tomorrow we'll make up
And again he'll hang up on me
But you see I know he'll never hurt me
I know he'll never desert me
And so I just say that's my man anyway
Tonight we'll love plenty, tomorrow maybe not any
But I'm sure he'll come through just in time
And to me he's more than just a man
He's my life so I understand why things has got to be his way
And I love him so much, so much 'til it hurts me
Yes, I do, so much, so much 'til it hurts me
He makes me cry when I wanna laugh sometimes His moods, they keep changing all the time

But I know just where his head is when it's not laying on top of mine
His world is not so different and you may not believe
But I'm sure you'd understand him if you were me
And that's why this world can't look and frown
But I'll never let him down
That is my man and he means the world to me
And I love him so much, so much 'til it hurts me
Yes, I love him so much, so much 'til it hurts me
Oh (so much, so much 'til it hurts me)
I love him so (so much, so much 'til it hurts me) much
So much, so much--
