No Plans for the Future

Natalie Cole

Let the dishes wait, no need in dusting No reason to clean the dirty floor 'Cause I'm sure it doesn't matter Now that he has gone away

I have no plans for the future 'cause he's not here today Let them go to the park and I'll sit alone here in the dark

No joy left in my heart anymore Let me hold on to my memories And if I die this way just let it be

I have no plans for the future 'cause he's not here with me

Why should I comb my head When I know, I'm not going anywhere? Why should I keep right on giving When I've lost my only reason for living? So go on, just go on and have yourself a ball

I have no plans for the future 'cause he's not here I have no plans for the future 'cause he's not here at all
