Talk in Tongues

Natalie Imbruglia

When you beat on that drum Talk in that tongue You're just scratching On the surface So tell me what it means A whisper to a scream Slowly fades away Then you wake up And tomorrow is today And you're crying Crying like a baby Caught between the tides (Did you lose your way) You lost your way (Did you lose your way) You lost your way

Do you know where I've been Walls are caving in
It moves across a wire
There no need to talk
I crawl as you walk
Pushing me away

Flowers in the bin
Close this hole I'm in
Everything was one
Nothing gets undone
You pay the bill
You lost your will
Just run away until
