Yeah, I can't deny it On the inside, I'm slowly dyin' But with a little love, it'll be alright Just give me one more day I promise I'll make it up to you I never meant to hurt you, baby Just trust me. . .listen. . . I can't deny it That you got me cryin' you see And I'm, I'm slowly dyin' So we can't give up tryin' to be With a little love it will be all right With a little kiss let me hold you tight With a little peace it could be so fine And baby don't you leave me tonight I just need one more day And I won't make you cry Darlin' believe And baby don't say goodbye Look in my heart And I won't tell you no lies Just one more day And loving me will be fine People tell me that True love is blind But I'm trying to prove that True love is kind All I want Is to make things right So won't you be my baby tonight I just need one more day And I won't make you cry Darlin' believe And baby don't say goodbye Look in my heart And I won't tell you no lies Just one more day And loving me will be fine One more day One more day One more day With a little love it will be all right With a little kiss let me hold you tight With a little peace it could be so fine And baby don't you leave me tonight I just need one more, day Just one more day Just one more day Just one more day One more day One more day One more day One more day
