Procession

There is no end to this I have seen your face But I don't recognize all these things You must have left behind

It's a problem, you know That's been there all your life I try to make you see the world without a view That just turn black and white

At night, it gets cold and You'd dearly like to turn away The escape that fills Makes you want to turn on heel Alone, alone, alone, alone

There is no end to this I can't turn away Another picture but the scene It's still the same

There is no room to move Or try to look away Remember, life is strange Life keeps getting stranger every day

I try so hard but this attitude's A type that won't subside No matter what they say Remember, heart beats you, late at night

Your heart beats you, late at night Your heart beats you, late at night Your heart beats you, late at night New Order
