

Feels Like Home

Newton Faulkner

I know it's gonna take some time,
For you to feel that it's alright,
And not making people choose a side,
But I don't mind,
You trying to get some people on yours,
I know that it takes some time,
But I must try,
I just want you to understand,

When things don't feel right,
And you know deep inside,
It breaks your heart,
But you must get out,

And I know you're gonna be alright,
And I hope you find your way and I hope your futures bright,
But I am the way this feels inside,
But all I wanna do is make it through to the other side,
No I don't wanna know why,
You just can't let this go,
But I must try,
I just want you to understand,

That it feels like home,
And it knocks me out,
Just to feel this way,
And know I broke out,

And it feels like home,
And it knocks me out,
Just to feel this way,
And know I broke out yeah,

And I owe it all,
To this fall,
Yes I owe it all,
To this fall,

And I just want you to understand,
That it feels like home,
And it knocks me out,
Just to feel this way,
I know I broke out,

And it feels like home,
And it knocks me out,
Just to feel this way,
And know I broke out,
I broke out.
