

Looking back

Nomy

Everything is quite when you're all alone stare in to the fire when no one's coming home no one to admire sad to die when you're not done but it's a one way you're on and you cant slow down what you had will be gone but you keep the love you won

There's a fire
Rising up inside of you when you think of us two

There's a fire
Still it burns inside of you
With the memory of us two Reflections of a lost time dancing in the flames try to draw a straight line of what you feel inside looking back for changes all things you never tried we had a good way down in a free fall with you I had a long way down

With the memory of you and me
