

Psychopath

Nomy

I'm standing in a silent room
And everyone is holding hands
I'll make it to crowded tomb
If anybody takes a chance

You said I'm going to be a man
The one who's going to make them see
They love me for the man I am
But all they got was hate from me

I'm running on my only path
This is what I need to do
They're calling me a psychopath
And that is what I got from you

So kill them all
Kill them all
That is all they want me to
I hear thousands little voices
But the worst I hear is you

So kill them all
Kill them all
That is all I hear them say
I got all them rounded up
But with my conscience in the way

So what if you could see me now
Would you recognize your son
Am I disappointing you
Would you know what I have done

So what if you could kill me now
What if you could end it here
What if you could live some how
Would you even shed a tear

So help me mother
What have I done
Are you still proud of
Your only son

Get out of my head
