

Hey Stranger

Number One Gun

So, where does my life been?
Time, well has it passed me by?
Look in my eyes, look in my eyes
Tell me now
Decide, what do you want?

People are strange in other world
And with their hands against the wind
They lift their chins and hands they use
And with their eyes they're asking you

And I, am running on the inside
And you, you don't seem to care (you don't seem to care)
I guess I'll spend some time
Guess I'll spend some time
Time alone
But what, do I have to show?

People are strange in other world
And with their hands against the wind
They lift their chins and hands they use
And with their eyes they're asking you

Don't erase my life, don't erase my life
Don't erase my life, don't erase my life
(I'll do anything worth saving myself)

People are strange in other world
And with their hands against the wind
They lift their chins and hands they use
And with their eyes they're asking you
