

Down the Road

Of Mice & Men

Your vacancy consumes me,
Like the cold slowly creeping in.

The road is long, the road is long.
Goodbye for now, my friend.
They say, the road is long, the road is long.
I'll see you in the end,

But it slowly fades with every day,
Without you to light the way.

Can you send me a sign,
Cause I'm dying for it?
Can you save me from myself again?
If I must walk alone,
Until the end,
I'll see you down, down the road.
Down the road.
Down the road.
Down the road.

I feel your spirit pull me,
Like the moon dancing with the sea.

The road is long, the road is long.
Goodbye for now my friend.
They say the road is long, the road is long.
I'll see you in the end,

But I watch it change, with every day,
Without you to guide the way.

Can you send me a sign,
Cause I'm dying for it?
Can you save me from myself again?
If I must walk alone,
Until the end,
I'll see you down the road.

Journey down the path less traveled
Watch the tapestry unravel
Tie a string to mark the path and then
Use your love to, use your love to lead me back.

I watch it change, with every day,
Without you to guide the way.

Can you send me a sign,
Cause I'm dying for it?
Can you save me from myself again?
If I must walk alone,
Until the end,
I'll see you down, down the road.
Down the road.
Down the road.
Down the road.
