

All That I Know

One Less Reason

Not a lot of good can come from this
And there's not much that you've shown
While you were adding me up
I never amounted much
I'm just the person that needed you more

Did you fall, did you break?
Did you make a mistake?
Did you lose how it felt to win?
Don't tell me that it's over now
If I said the right thing, if I said the wrong
If I showed you my biggest scar
Where I once had a heart
I'm sorry, but you're all that I know

You know that you don't compromise
The place you wanted to be
When you were down on your luck
When you were killing us
Did you ever stop to think of me?

Did you fall, did you break?
Did you make a mistake?
Did you lose how it felt to win?
Don't tell me that it's over now
If I said the right thing, if I said the wrong
No matter how far I go
You will always be home
I'm sorry, but you're all that I know
I'm sorry, but you're all that I know

And if a shade falls on me
I need you to know that I won't scream
And if everything you need happened to leave you
I won't leave

Don't tell me that it's over now
If I said the right thing, if I said the wrong
Would it matter if I might die
If you'd kiss me goodbye
I'm sorry but you're all that I know

Don't tell me that it's over now
If I said the right thing, if I said the wrong
You said there's no way that this is love
It hasn't hurt you enough
I'm sorry but you're all that I know
I'm sorry but you're all that I know
All that I know
All that I know
All that I know
I'm sorry but you're all that I know
