

I'm Not (Happy For You)

One Less Reason

And baby, maybe you've been saved
And you just don't know it
And maybe, maybe you've been hurt
And you're scared to show it

But sometimes, does your pain become too much for you to bear?
And sometimes, do you run away?

And I said maybe, maybe you won't stay
And it doesn't matter
'Cause lately, lately I have changed
And I feel much better

But sometimes, does your pain become too much for you to bear?
And sometimes, do you run away?

You're gonna take this broken heart that he gave you
And follow the light of the stars you loved
When every day is all the same
You made me wonder why

Did you try if you knew better?
I wished on a star and it landed on you
I lie because I'm not better
And I'm not happy for you, I'm not happy for you

And I said baby, is there something you need to say
'Cause your heart says nothing
And maybe, maybe I'm to blame
And this has all been over

But sometimes, does your pain become too much for you to bear?
And sometimes, do you run away?

You're gonna take this broken heart that he gave you
And follow the light of the stars you loved
When every day is all the same
You made me wonder why

Did you try if you knew better?
I wished on a star and it landed on you
I lie because I'm not better
And I'm not happy for you, I'm not happy for you
And I'm not happy for you, I'm not happy for you
And I'm not happy for you, I'm not happy for you

And I said baby, is there something you need to say?
'Cause your heart says nothing
And maybe, but I don't think that will change

Why did we try if you knew better?
I wished on a star and it landed on you
I lie because I'm not better
And I'm not happy for you, I'm not happy for you
Did we try if you knew better
I wished on a star and it landed on you
I lie because I'm not better

And I'm not happy for you, I'm not happy for you
And I'm not happy for you, I'm not happy for you
And I'm not happy for you, I'm not...
