Hope Leaves

Opeth

In the corner beside my window
There hangs a lonely photograph
There is no reason
I'd never notice
A memory that could hold me back

There is a wound that's always bleeding
There is a road I'm always walking
And I know you'll never return to this place

Gone through days without talking There is a comfort in silence So used to losing all ambition Struggling to maintain what's left

Once undone, there is only smoke Burning in my eyes to blind To cover up what really happened Force the darkness unto me
