

Mountains Of Steel

Orchid

I reach for your hand as I'm swallowed by tides of illusion
I've become cosmic, I slip through the eye of my soul
I am reborn of this world as a child of the future
Visions of beauty and love, I transcend what is known

Falling through astral seas
To places unreal
Flying in plasmic skies
On mountains of steel
Mountains of steel
Mountains of steel

You smile in my eyes as we pass through the portals of starlight
Crystalline walkways that lead us to rivers unreal
I am transformed, I return to the womb of creation
Conscious is fading, I become one with all time

Falling through astral seas
To places unreal
Flying in plasmic skies
On mountains of steel
Mountains of steel
Mountains of steel

I know, yes I know
All these feelings deep inside
I know, yes I know
All these feelings I can hide
The life that I've lived in this world
Is passing through control
Revealing the child that was once
Slipping from my soul
I try to get back to the truth
That once was so easy to find
The laughter and love
That once was mine

Mountains of steel...
On mountains of steel...
