

Where You Are

Orson

A picture of the two of us, I don't remember
When the crazy me and the devil by my side
Well, I just can't help but crack a smile every now and then
And I'm just wondering where you are tonight

Back when we knew everything too much for our own good
The world was ours and all we had was time
We didn't make it all the way we did the best we could
And I'm just wondering where you are tonight

Oh, never knew where we were going
Storming every single moment of every day
Oh, never had any way of knowing
There'd be any chance, it could all just go away

God knows how you drag out the best and worst in me
I could never stop you I never even tried Maybe I've already been the best I'll ever be
And I'm just wondering where you are tonight

Oh, the wind just keeps on blowing
And I'm losing track of ships that pass me by
Oh, are you doing any better?
Are you somewhere lost inside the same big sky?

That picture of the both of us, it didn't quite turn out
We never really found the perfect light
The final drops of summer slipping through the magic hour
And I'm just wondering where you are tonight

I'm just wondering where you are tonight
Are you somewhere out there?
