Dominoes

Paul McCartney

In time we'll know
It's all a show
It's been a blast
As time goes by
We'll laugh and cry
It's in the past

We can start to begin
Living in the world we're in

From day to day
We fight and play
The more we need
We'll soon forget
We ever met and disagreed

We can start to begin
Living in the world we're in
This is it, here and now
We can find our way
Somehow

And like the dominoes who're falling into place
Ignoring everything in their way
And all the telephones keep calling constantly
Imploring us to come out and play

And soon we'll see
That you and me
We're really friends
We broke the code
And walked the road
That never ends

We can start to begin
Living in the world we're in
This is it, here and now
We can find our way
Somehow

And like the dominoes who're falling into place
Ignoring everything in their way
And all the telephones keep calling constantly
Imploring us to come out and play
Hey-hey, hey-hey

We'll take our time
And try to learn
To sing and dance
We'll hedge our bets
With no regrets
And take a chance

We can start to begin
We can find our way

Somehow

And like the dominoes who're falling into place
And all the telephones keep calling constantly
Imploring us to come out and play
Hey-hey, hey-hey

In time we'll know
It's all a show
It's been a blast

And like the dominoes who're falling into place
And all the telephones keep calling constantly
Imploring us to come out and play
