

Looking for You

Paul McCartney

I thought I saw your shadow in an old doorway but when I looked again I thought I made a big mistake, it was someone else, who looked a little like you, but now I know, ah ha ha, ain't no one like you. I'll tell you why I know, babe, hey, cause I'm looking for you, looking for you, yeah, I'm looking for you, that's all I do, that's all, I'm looking for you, looking for you, yeah, I'm looking for you, that's right. That's all I do, yeah.

I've been to many places around the world, I've studied many faces of every little boy and girl.
But I'm looking for you, I'm looking for you, just looking for you.
Baby, I'm looking for you, I'm looking for you, look, look, looking for you.
Hey nah nah nah, let me tell you, baby, the earth ain't flat,
I finally made the decision, and that is that.
And now I know, there's only one place to be, you know where that place is, yeah, for you to be with me.

Babe, I'm looking for you, looking for you, I'm looking for you...
