I was in love the moment that I saw you I followed you thru the crowd and I almost lost you I was dying to tell you but scared of your reaction But I can't hold back because I'm rushed with thing called pass ion

You've got me knocked out turn me inside out It's you that makes my heart beat You've got me knocked out Baby there's no doubt You swept me off of my feet

I walked your way hoping that Maybe you noticed I don't want to move so fast I don't want to blow it

Never did I think love could be so amazing But the things that you're making me do It's driving me crazy
