Thunderhead

I need a new way to express myself So you don't need to guess What otherwise I'd say aloud And watch it float just like a cloud

High up above you like a thunderhead But you would just look down instead And you wait 'til foggy skies abate And vapor clouds all dissipate

And when with them all my words for you Have softly sublimated too And you'll just hope that I've moved on So you'll look up and find me gone Phish