Struck By The Chord

Plankeye

Winded again by my broken silence; love's become a noise, as my tongue's on fire

My heart consumed, struck by the chord of pride; woe is me I sh all come down

I shall come down

Can't seem to see me, my words are much too loud, as my tongue's on fire

Easily ensnared, strengthen my hands which hang down Quench the violence of my fire, of my fire...

Precious blood of Christ, bring death that i might see life I see new life, I shall come down; I see new life, I shall come down
