

Sleep

Plumb

Oh I feel so tired
I cannot hardly keep open
My eyes
My thoughts are scattered and I cannot say a word and I can't seem to remember anything I've learned

Well do you have some of those days
When you can't be who you wanna be When you just need to close your eyes Pull the covers up so high and drift away and sleep so soundly and dream profoundly Cast all your cares on the Only thing that you really need
and sleep so soundly

Now I feel so light My sense of movement's slowed and somehow my tongue's tied My thoughts are shattered and they're making stars in the sky and I've never felt so speechless in my life

Well do you have some of those days
When you just need, you just need to be
When you just need to shut your mouth Close your eyes breathe in and out and Drift away
Sleep so soundly and dream, just dream profoundly Sleep
