Pretty Girls Make Graves

Crowds of people, bodies brushing Mouths are moving, all white noise Glasses clinking, people screaming High hum, low buzz, no room to breathe

They story's slow with no conclusion On and on the tape is clicking Step by step and I am choking On and on the tape is clicking

All the people with nothing in their eyes
All the soulless with their sharp teeth and their lies
All the people with nothing in their eyes
And I could run out of this theater screaming

Crowds of people, bodies brushing Mouths are moving, all white noise Glasses clinking, people screaming High hum, low buzz, no room to breathe

I feel like this movie will never end
I could run out of this theater screaming
They story's slow with no conclusion
And on and on the tape is clicking

And step by step and I am choking And I can't breathe Will this movie ever run out of film? This story is slow with no conclusion

And the tape is clicking On and on and step by step And I am choking Yeah, I can't breathe

And the tape is clicking on and on And the tape is clicking on and on And the tape is clicking on and on And step by step and I am choking Yeah, I can't breathe
