Locked up tight but holdin' the key Clock keeps tickin' like it's laughin' at me I wonder What spell I'm under Days go by in a pulseless haze Who's that person that's wearin' my face Denyin' What he's hidin' I can't go on like this I won't let myself miss the rest of my life When something's come and gone What good is holdin' on? Why waste tomorrow chasin' yesterday? I part my lips to speak But the words are out of reach I guess that really means There's nothin' left to say I guess we could carry on livin' asleep Who is the fool who could choose to just keep pretendin' That this ain't endin'? I wish you all that I wish for myself To have that ache of emptiness behind us And not still inside us It's time to take that dare There's still a world out there waitin' for me When something's come and gone What good is holdin' on? Why waste tomorrow chasin' yesterday? I part my lips to speak But the words are out of reach I guess that really means There's nothin' left to say We did the best we could Just like we thought we should But sometimes you've got to just let go When something's come and gone What good is holdin' on?

Nothin' left to say

There's nothin' left to say

I part my lips to speak

But the words are out of reach I guess that really means There's nothin' left to say

Why waste tomorrow chasin' yesterday?