Ripples

Róisín Murphy

There, There
There, There
There, There
There, There, There may be
There, There, There may be

Only so much you can know
There may be
Only so far you can go
If you can't get
Only so much you can take, all for your own sake
Don't go without
Only so much you can take, before you stop
Feeling the pain (then it will be too late)
Nobody who has ever, will ever come prepared
My love will always take you, unawares

Just let it go, let it all go
Let me take you right back to zero
Because it's dark out here in the vagueness
Let me ask you this (Could you let it show) Put it all on show
There's nothing left to lose
Just you follow me, follow me, follow
Down that one road left to choose

There, There
There, There
There, There
There, There

Into a vast lake, still as glass, pebbles are thrown
The ripples go on and on and
The ripples go on and on and on and

Could you let it go, let it all go
Let me take you right back to zero
'Cause it's vague out here in the darkness
Let me ask you this (Could you let it show, let it all show)
'Cause there's only so much you can know
Just you follow me, follow me, follow
Down the one road right to choose

Butterfly beats the wings
Butterfly beats the wings
Butterfly beats the wings (Repeats)
(Ripples go on and..)

(Ripples go..)
Let it in, let it all in (Butterfly beats...)
Just let it go let it all go (Let it go let it all go)
(Butterfly, butterfly, butterfly beats the wings)

There
There
There
There
There
There
There may be
