These Foolish Things

Sam Cooke

A cigarette that bears a lipstick's traces An airline ticket to romantic places And still my heart has wings These foolish things remind me of you

A tinkling piano in the next apartment Those stumblin' words that told you what my heart meant A fairground's painted swings These foolish things remind me of you

You came, you saw, you conquered me When you did that to me I knew somehow this had to be

The winds of March that make my heart a dancer A telephone that rings but who's to answer? Oh, how the ghost of you clings
These foolish things remind me of you let me tell you first daffodils and all excited cables and candlelights on little corner tables and still my heart has wings

These foolish things
Remind me of you

The park at evening and scented roses and waiters whistling as the last bar closes the beauty that is spring springs

How strange, how sweet, to find you still These things are dear to me They seem to bring you so near to me

The sigh of midnight trains in empty stations Silk stockings thrown aside dance invitations Oh how the ghost of you clings
These foolish things
Remind me of you
These foolish things
Remind me of you
