Have You Seen

Sharon Van Etten

Have you seen what I once called my heart? Have you seen my life that's now falling apart? Oooh... my life that's now falling apart...

Have you been to what I once called my home? States away, how could I not feel alone? Oooh... how could I not feel alone?

Have you heard a heart flies away like a bird, Runs from the cold, into the arm that will hold? Oooh... into the arms that will hold. Into the arms that will hold.
